Happy Half Term

We would like to thank you for all your support in the transition back into school, the children have settled in fantastically but we are still very much focused on the impact that the long term absence has had on our families and continues to have now that we have moved into tier 3 restrictions. Some of the children have been sharing their concerns of the impact on their wider family and class teachers are dedicating time to allow the children to ask questions and share their feelings around the current situation to enable them to cope with the strange times.

Warm Clothing

As we return from half term the colder weather will be upon us and in line with guidance we will be keeping windows open in classrooms and the hall to maintain good ventilation. The heating will be set to counter this. Please ensure that your child has a school jumper/cardigan at all times and when in outdoor PE kit that this is black leggings/joggers and a black or green sweatshirt. It may be an idea to put an additional layer on under their uniform.

Scarecrow Festival

The scarecrows look amazing, we have had many walkers stopping and commenting on them, with one couple saying 'it was the first time in a long time that something had given them a reason to smile'. We shall keep the scarecrows in place over half term and the first week back they can be collected if you wish to.

Home Learning

The White Rose Maths work books are to allow you to continue with home learning over the half term holidays, whilst teachers will not be responding to SeeSaw over the break we ask that you still upload the assigned work as this will allow teachers to reflect on work the children have been carrying out in school and how they are transferring this independently. School purchasing the books and subscribing to the online video links will hopefully support you to talk through with your child the math units that we have covered so far.
